Social Media Guidelines

Do spend time:

...involving yourself in the conversation – feel free to jump straight into the forum boards and topics. If there isn't a current conversation that covers what you'd like to talk about, start it yourself.

...playing nice – we ask that you be respectful of other users. Everyone has a right to an opinion. Please be polite in expressing yours.

...having meaningful and genuine interactions – self-promotion or solicitation of any kind is strictly prohibited in our group, and breaches the terms.

...recognising your fellow members – this is a community for the whole of Swindon. You should bear this in mind when engaging in conversations.

...being yourself – we welcome the thoughts and opinions of all community members, and being yourself will allow you to build stronger relationships with other users and get the most from the community experience.

But please don't spend time:

...offending others – this goes hand-in-hand with ‘playing nice’. Use of language that is purposefully offensive shall not be tolerated in the group; along with comments that are racist, sexist, or otherwise objectionable.

...deviating wildly from the topic of the thread – irrelevant content may be subject to removal.

Content should be relevant and useful
